

Did you know we have...

Sometimes getting there is half the fun. While having a destination is usually the idea, it doesn't have to be the case. A path or walkway can be designed simply to add atmosphere, be a border for a flower bed or just for casual "meandering". A walkway or path featuring a thoughtfully designed mix of paver laying patterns creates visual interest, leading the way while captivating the senses. For extra impact, incorporate steps and terraces as eye-catching transitions along the route.
